THE PROGRAMME

The primary idea of this Programme is, of course, to enlighten the audience as to the personnel of the artists taking part in the performances, incidentally to serve as a guide to the plot of the piece, and generally to give such information as will tend to the enjoyment of the auditor.

Reading matter of a miscellaneous nature, is, however, liberally supplied, that may be perused with interest and advantage. Quips and Quirks give zest to the solid matter, as sauces do to meats, but there is a fund of information in the advertisements that may be seriously considered with profit.

The publishers are prepared to attend to all business in the way of general and special advertising.

Respectfully,

BELTON & ROOTE,
Advertising Agents.

CORRECTED.

Boston Girl—Do you society women eat many clams?

Gotham Maiden—No. I've danced and flirted with no end of them, but I've never eaten any—that is to know it.

JUST FITTED.

Mrs. Hicks—You needn't mind about those flannels I asked you to get for Dick.

Hicks—Did you find some for him?

Mrs. Hicks—Yes, I washed two new suits of yours.

W. T. STRONG,

DISPENSING CHEMIST . . . .

HE SNORED.

Mrs. Hussiff—My husband sleeps like a top.

Mrs. Pinmoney—So does mine—like a humming top.

RATHER.

Papa—Where did the Count say his castle was —on the Rhine?

Agnes—Yes; on a high cliff.

Papa—Guess it's on a high bluff, rather.

MONTEBELLO Champagne was never so well known the world over nor so popular with the elite of all civilized countries as it is to-day. This wine is produced in the heart of the champagne district of France, on what was formerly the estate of the Duke of Montebello. The industry was begun by the duke and his two brothers sixty years ago, and the heirs are now the active partners in the famous firm of Alfred de Montebello & Co. The grapes (usually of the black varieties) are pressed immediately after being gathered, and the juice on the first fermentation turns white. After being racked it is mixed with the juice of other growths and the brewing is effected. Then in the spring of the year the wine is decanted and bottles being placed cork downwards to allow of the dregs being easily withdrawn. After this is done, a liquid made by dissolving sugar candy in champagne wine is added, the bottles are recorked and dispatched to their destination. Such is, in short, the method of the manufacture of this great wine. That the result is a wine of unparallelled excellence connoisseurs the world over will testify. The triumphs of the Montebello brand are many, a noteable one being that achieved at the Agricultural Hall, London, Eng., where out of twenty of the leading champagnes it was placed first. During the recent festivities given in France in honor of the visit of the Russian Fleet, Montebello Champagne was used at the following fetes:—Dinner of six hundred guests at the City Hall Toulon; grand dinner given by President Carnot to Admiral Avalane at the Palais de L'Elysee; grand dinner at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs; grand dinner at the Hotel de Ville, Paris; grand ball at the same place, and at the grand dinner given by the City of Lyons. Montebello champagne is supplied to President Carnot, the Court of Russia, the Court of Spain, the Khedive of Egypt, the Duke d'Aoste of the Court of Italy, His Highness the Prince of Galles, and the nobility and gentry the world over, and is to-day sold by all the leading Clubs, Hotels and Restaurants in the Dominion.

Offices: 127 Broad Street, New York, N. Y.; 99 St. Francois Xavier Street, Montreal.

CIGARS.

We never knew a man who could not bear another's misfortunes perfectly like a Christian.

A good man tells a story of a young lady who tried to distribute tracts in the slums. On handing one to a plain looking man he said, as he returned it, "Thank ye kindly, Miss, but I have a wife already." Looking at the title, she discovered that it was "Abide With Me." She distributed no more.

ONE ON WOMAN.

Oh woman, lovely woman, were it not for thee,
Man, indeed, would have a fit and die from apathy.
Thou art fair as the lily, and beauteous as the rose,
For, coming down to beauty, you're in it, "I'll tell you those."

Oh, woman, lovely woman, thy charms are ever great,
Thou dost keep the men all guessing sometimes at a lively rate.
How often hast thou caught them with thy smile so fair to see,
Oh, woman, lovely woman, come, wilt "smile with me?"

Oh, woman, lovely woman, chief attraction—nay, save one,
And that one is our office, where the finest Printing's done.
Our printing is par excellence in quality, and the price,
When you see the work we do you'll say "It don't cut ice."

Oh, woman, lovely woman, thy influence with man
Has always held full sway e'er since the world began.
Exert it in a profitable way o'er fathers, lovers and brothers,
And tell them when they printing want—forget that "there are others."

Then woman, lovely woman, thou hast not lived in vain,
Pleasant day to morrow, if indeed it does not rain
We'll sing your praises truly, your charms both rich and rare.
Some day you'll have a harp and wings, and go "up in the air."
